

Truman Attacks 'Busybodies'

CLEVELAND (AP) — Former President Harry S. Truman caused a surprise among most of the 1,200 persons at a Democratic party gathering when he attacked "Northern busybodies" on civil rights.

Gasps were heard when Truman opened up with these words: "We are living in a very turbulent age in world history. The argument on civil rights has been stirred up by Boston and New England demagogues just as the War Between the States was brought about by Harriet Beecher Stowe and William Lloyd Garrison."

"If the Northern busybodies would stay at home and clean up their own back yards, the rest of the country will obey its laws. Those Southerners are anxious to do what the law requires them to do. They want to give equal rights to Negroes."

Test Ban Vote Set This Week

WASHINGTON (AP) — Senatorial speedmaking appeared Sunday the only serious barrier blocking formal ratification of the limited nuclear test ban treaty.

Majority leader Mike Mansfield, D-Mont., said 11 senators had asked time for prepared remarks Monday. Ten more plan to discuss the pact Tuesday.

"We will come in early and work late and hold a Saturday session if we have not reached a vote before then," Mansfield said.

Neither supporters nor opponents claim that any votes will be changed by the continuing oratorical barrage.

Asked about this, Mansfield said in an interview: "At this stage, . . . it is my guess that practically every senator has made up his mind."

Mansfield asked senators to start the second week of treaty discussion Monday two hours earlier than usual — 9 a.m. EST — and keep at it past the usual dinner-time quitting hour.

Cuba Executes 'Pentagon Agent'

HAVANA (AP) — A Cuban described as a U.S. agent trained by the Pentagon was executed Saturday by a firing squad, the newspaper El Mundo reported Sunday.

It identified him as Benjamin Acosta Valdes.

The newspaper said Acosta Valdes was seized while sending information by radio to what is called an espionage center in Miami, Fla.

El Mundo said he had been sent to Cuba by the Pentagon to obtain information about Cuban defenses and military resources.

South Viet Nam Probe Demanded

WASHINGTON (AP) — One of New York's Republican senators demanded Sunday a thorough congressional inquiry into the Viet Nam situation but the other said Congress must back the President.

Sen. Kenneth B. Keating, on a taped television-radio program, urged the investigation, saying "we have seen in U.S. policies toward South Viet Nam over the past months the same dangerous tendency that we saw in Cuba."

But Sen. Jacob K. Javits, on another taped television-radio program, said "We ought to let the President know he would have the full backing of the Congress even if he decided to take the terrible risk of pulling out."

Racial Dispute Stops SS America

NEW YORK (AP) — The luxury liner S.S. America lay at dockside Sunday, her scheduled Atlantic crossing knocked out by a dispute over whether an engineer practiced discrimination by locking crewmen out of a washroom.

Crewmen charged that the officer, Louis Neurath, padlocked the toilet to prevent its use by Negro and Puerto Rican crewmen, and that he was guilty of other discriminatory practices. Neurath denied the charges.

State To Sell Initial Plates

HARRISBURG (AP) — The State Revenue Department has unveiled plans to issue three-letter license plates and other special combinations, possibly by 1965.

The special plates would be authorized under new legislation which becomes effective Oct. 12.

One combination would allow motorists to have personal initials on their tags for a special $10 fee.

"We don't anticipate making the new tags available before 1965 or 1966 when we plan to replace all tags," an official of the Revenue Department said Saturday.

Quintuplets Are Unusually Healthy

ABERDEEN, S.D. (AP) — The Fischer quintuplets got their first feeding Sunday, a tiny amount of glucose and water through a tube, and continued in good health well into their second day of life.

"They are unusually healthy for premature babies," said Dr. James Berbos, 40, the doctor who delivered them early Saturday.

The quint, born to Mr. and Mrs. Andrew Fischer, may get their first taste of regular baby formula Monday, the doctor said.

The tiny babies, pink and wiggle, spent a good night and "are getting along fine," the doctor said.

"They were much more active today than yesterday. They are moving around in their isolets."

4 Girls, 1 Boy

The four girls and a boy appeared to have an increasing chance of being the first quintuplets in the United States to survive infancy.

There have been no signs of respiratory ailment, said Dr. Berbos. This is one of the first signs of trouble in many premature infants. The quint were born about two months prematurely.

Mrs. Fischer, 30, spent a restful night and walked about her room this morning, the doctor said. Her 38-year-old husband — haggard and weary Saturday — also rested by going into seclusion at the hospital for part of the night before going home.

The babies' early feedings are being done through tiny tubes into their stomachs. Glucose and water feedings will be repeated during the day.

Four Negro Girls Blown To Death During Birmingham Sunday School

Political Roundup

Scranton 'Absolutely' Not After Presidency

NEW YORK (AP) — Republican Gov. William Scranton of Pennsylvania said Sunday that if the presidential election were held this month President Kennedy would get a heavy proportion of Negro votes.

Arizona Republican Sen. Barry Goldwater, Scranton said in a radio (WVMA) interview, is "very unpopular" with Negroes. Scranton said it is "pretty clear" to him that Goldwater will try for the GOP nomination.

Scranton, often mentioned as a possible candidate for the presidential nomination, said he "absolutely" was not a candidate.

He called the possibility of a draft "about as remote as anything could be." He said presidential candidates these days must have an organization "and I have none of this."

DENVER (AP) — Gov. William W. Scranton of Pennsylvania says he thinks the civil rights issue has hurt President Kennedy's chances for reelection.

Scranton, often mentioned as a possible contender for the Republican presidential nomination in 1964, spoke of what he termed a "backlash" on civil rights while meeting with newsmen here yesterday.

Asked by reporters why he felt the issue had been injurious to Kennedy politically, Scranton replied: "I don't know where it has hurt him but it has."

Scranton said he thought the Republicans were taking a positive approach to civil rights through improving employment opportunities for Negroes opening up apprenticeship training and carrying out equality in housing.

Other causes for Kennedy's losing popularity, Scranton said, included the administration's handling of foreign problems, especially Viet Nam, and the manner in which the threatened railroad strike was handled.

Scranton was here for a one-day meeting of the Republican Governors' Association. He again reiterated that he was not interested in the Republican nomination for president.

These are Mrs. Dorothy Elston, president of the National Federation of Republican Women, and Donald E. (Buz) Lukens, head of the National Young Republican Club.

Miller avoided in an interview confirming or denying reports that New York National Committeeman George L. Hinman had complained bitterly that Mrs. Elston was campaigning for Goldwater in her position as federation president.

Hinman is one of the chief architects of the drive New York Gov. Nelson A. Rockefeller is putting on to revive his chances for the 1964 nomination.

Rocky Admits Remarriage Hurts His Bid

NEW YORK (AP) — Gov. Nelson A. Rockefeller said Sunday night it is a "realistic" view to assume that his divorce and remarriage have seriously hurt his chances to be president.

Rockefeller took this position during an appearance on the NBC-TV program "Meet The Press."

He said he will announce before the end of the year—perhaps in November—whether he will seek the 1964 Republican presidential nomination.

Concerning his marriage to the former Margarette (Happy) Murphy, divorced mother of four, after his divorce from the first Mrs. Rockefeller, the governor said: "I have a very deep understanding of the reactions of individuals in this situation. I have no sense but one of feeling for people's concern. I think it's a situation which in political life is difficult."

GOP Muzzles Goldwater Fans

WASHINGTON (AP) — Chairman William E. Miller has tried to muzzle the public enthusiasm of some Republican National Committee officials for Sen. Barry Goldwater, R-Ariz., as the 1964 GOP presidential nominee.

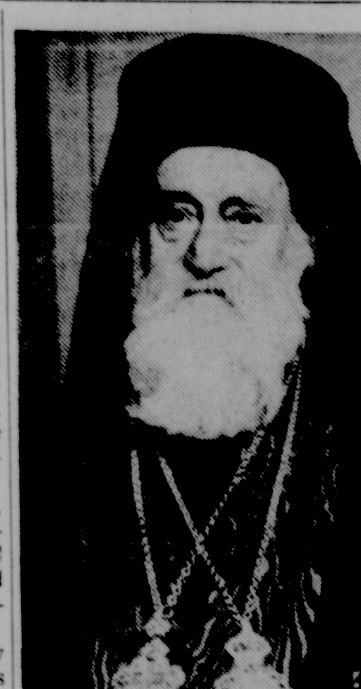

Although Miller insisted that a

Morton Predicts Open Convention

MACKINAC ISLAND (AP) — Kentucky Sen. Thurston Morton said Sunday that he expects "a wide-open convention" to nominate the 1964 presidential candidate.

Morton, chairman of the Republican Senatorial Campaign Committee and former GOP national chairman, was the featured speaker Sunday at Michigan Republican round-up on a three-day Mackinac Island convention, billed as the kickoff for the 1964 political campaign.

Morton said the three most prominent names mentioned as potential candidates are Arizona Sen. Barry Goldwater, New York Gov. Nelson Rockefeller and Michigan Gov. George Romney. He said Pennsylvania Gov. William Scranton also should figure in any speculation.

Fulbright Questions Viet Nam Aid

WASHINGTON (AP) — Sen. J.W. Fulbright, D-Ark., expressed grave doubt Sunday that the Senate will continue to support foreign aid for South Viet Nam unless President Ngo Dinh Diem's authoritarian regime liberalizes its policies.

Fulbright, chairman of the Senate Foreign Relations Committee, said there has been very serious deterioration of the internal situation in South Viet Nam because of Diem's strongest crackdown on Buddhists and other opponents.

"We don't wish to be too precipitous," he said in a television interview. "But if they persist in their course . . . our aid will fall . . . The feeling among some . . . in the Senate is that it just can't succeed."

Fulbright said that because of this there is great support for a resolution sponsored by Sen. Frank Church, D-Idaho, calling for a halt to all aid for Viet Nam unless it changes its ways.

The governors called for a cut in federal income taxes, individual and corporate, as a means of stimulating private enterprise and creating jobs, but insisted that federal spending be held to present levels.

"To reduce taxes and continue the upward spiral of federal deficit spending as the administration proposes, is irresponsible and hazardous," they said in a statement.

The governors criticized the Kennedy administration for "by-passing the states and their well-established agencies and programs" in a rapid federal administration for imposing regulations which they contended go beyond the intent of Congress.

Twelve governors attended the meeting and three others sent representatives. Rhode Island participated in any way.

23 Injured, 2 Shot As Violence Erupts

BIRMINGHAM, Ala. (AP) — Four Negro girls were blasted to death Sunday and 23 persons were injured in the daylight bombing of a church, setting off more violence.

Within hours after the dynamite explosion had shattered the ready shaky racial calm, two Negroes were killed and three others were wounded.

Police said two white youths had shot fatally a Negro boy, 13, shortly after policemen had shot to death a Negro, 16. Officers said the older boy had been killed as they fired over his head when they saw him throwing rocks at cars.

In another shooting, a white man was wounded by a Negro, police said. Another white man was wounded in a robbery attempt by a Negro.

Rock-Throwing

Rock-throwing by Negroes was reported in many sections.

Leaders of the 125,000 Negroes pleaded against retaliation for the bombing, which brought a climax of horror to the city's first week of school desegregation.

Mayor Albert Boutwell urged everyone to keep off the streets. Leaders of a white segregationist group seeking to start private schools called off a rally.

The bombing, which fanned racial fires to new heat, came during Sunday school. The lesson was "the love that forgives."

Heavy police patrols roved the city as night fell. They sealed off the bomb-shattered church, used last summer as an assembly point for anti-segregation marches.

300 Troopers

Gov. George Wallace rushed in 300 state troopers.

The governor alerted 500 national guardsmen in Birmingham. Numerous policemen from surrounding towns and counties were called in.

"The entire forces of the state will be utilized to maintain law and order," said Wallace in a statement.

Dr. Martin Luther King Jr. of Atlanta, the Negro minister who led a summer desegregation campaign here, prepared to come to

Wilkins Decries 'Bestiality'

NEW YORK (AP) — Negro leader Roy Wilkins decried President Kennedy Sunday night that unless the federal government offers more than "pity and piecemeal aid against this type of bestiality" in Birmingham, Negroes will "employ such methods as our desperation may dictate in defense of the lives of our people."

Wilkins, executive secretary of the National Association for the Advancement of Colored People, said the NAACP "urges fullest use of the federal anti-bombing statute for complete intervention of the Department of Justice in Birmingham."

"The State of Alabama, through the defiance of its governor George C. Wallace, and his encouragement of similar defiance by Alabama citizens, has killed these children."

the blast, could be identified only by clothing and a ring.

Cynthia and Carol were on the youth board of ushers. The other two victims were to have sung in the youth choir.

This was youth day at Sixteenth Street Baptist.

Dynamite Bomb

Police Lt. Maurice House estimated that 10 sticks of dynamite made up the bomb which apparently was planted in a stairwell about four feet below ground level outside the building.

Chunks of concrete, twisted metal and shattered glass were hurled with bullet force against nearby buildings. Several cars were wrecked, twisted and ripped. Glass was everywhere.

"It's just making hate," said a Negro bystander, 38-year-old Andrew Anderson, former professional fighter. "This town is gone now . . . I know it's gone."

Mayor Albert Boutwell wept after he learned of the church bombing.

"I never could conceive that anyone existed with such unbridled malice," he said. "I fear that the situation will become worse."

When the explosion came, there were approximately 200 persons in the church. Rev. J. H. Cross, pastor, said, about 80 were in basement classrooms.

TB Justice Department said FBI agents, on the scene within minutes, will make a full investigation. Top aides of Atty. Gen. Robert F. Kennedy were sent here.

2 Large Fires Break Out In Birmingham

BIRMINGHAM, Ala. (AP) — Two major fires broke out Sunday night in two areas of town as police were harassed by scattered outbreaks of violence.

Both fires erupted in residential areas housing Negroes, but officials made no connection between the blazes and a church bombing in which four Negro children were killed Sunday.

A broom factory was ablaze with five regular fire companies and a truck company at the scene. It burned out of control long after they were called. The area, on the South Side, was sealed off.

In the Northwest section, a roofing company caught fire as firemen fought the other blaze. Officials said a gasoline station in the area was threatened.

Malaysia Begins Life With Unfriendly Neighbors

KUALA LUMPUR, Malaysia (AP) — The federation of Malaysia took its uncertain place Monday as the world's newest nation, greeted by warm wishes from its friends and enmity from its two biggest neighbors.

One, the Philippines, withheld recognition; the other, Indonesia, announced it could not accept the new nation "as it is now."

President Diosdado Macapagal of the Philippines summoned home his ambassadors in Kuala Lumpur and Jakarta, Indonesia, for consultations. Foreign Secretary Salvador P. Lopez was ordered back from New York. Filipino diplomats abroad were told to boycott Malaysia celebrations.

A Filipino foreign ministry spokesman said these actions do not preclude eventual recognition of Malaysia.

In Indonesia, Foreign Minister Subandrio announced disagreement with a favorable report of the United Nations on Malaysia.

Subandrio met with top military and civilian leaders in an emergency session called by President Sukarno.

This coldness failed to dampen the enthusiasm of happy crowds in Kuala Lumpur who had been gathering since before midnight to herald the birth of the new nation—a joining of Malay with the former British colonies of Singapore, Sarawak and North Borneo.

Fireworks

Firecrackers popped and gay lights blazed downtown.

In Jakarta, fist-waving Indonesian youths remonstrated against Malaysia.

Among Malaysia's well-wishers were the United States and Britain. Through the Communist party newspaper Pravda, the Soviet Union agreed with Indonesia that Malaysia is a British attempt at neo-colonialism in Southeast Asia.

Announcing Indonesia's stand, Subandrio said: "We are trying to urge the United Nations to make a correction; only after that correction has been made can we change our attitude."

Subandrio did not elaborate but about the thoroughness of a U.N. investigation into whether the people of Sarawak and North Borneo desired membership in the federation. Both territories are situated on Borneo, an island owned mostly by Indonesia.

The formal launching of the federation capped a two-year struggle to form a union stretching in 1,500 miles along the bottom lip of the South China Sea.

The nation provides a pro-Western, anti-Communist buffer zone against Red Chinese ambitions in Southeast Asia and possible expansion by Indonesia.

Malaysia's birth also signalled the end of British colonialism, tying all of Britain's remaining Asian colonies except Hong Kong into an independent package.

It links 10 million people of different races and cultures under a crescent star and striped flag.

Indonesia's hostility presents the most serious problem, by far. If the hostility leads to war, result could be one of the worst defeats for Western interests in Asia since the fall of China to the Communists in 1949.

Indonesia has shown no desire for a full scale shooting war which would mean a military showdown with Britain. But diplomats believe Sukarno is determined to smash Malaysia and possibly gobble up some of the pieces.

Small Army

Indonesia, with a population of 160 million or 10 times that of Malaysia, can field an army of 350,000 men, the largest military force in Southeast Asia.

Malaysia's 15,000-man army has virtually no heavy weapons. The nation will rely on British guns for its defense and concentrate its resources on economic growth.

stocky, bespectacled Prime Minister of Malaysia, is almost certain to become the new nation's first prime minister.

"My ambition is not a mighty Malaysia," he said, "but a happy Malaysia."

The Tunku — prince — called for "food instead of bullets, clothing instead of uniforms, houses instead of barracks."

While the United States strongly supports Malaysia, continued U.S. aid to Indonesia has tarnished the American image here, geared to the theory that Sukarno's erratic regime must be supported to counter the weight of the Indonesian Communist party, the largest outside the Red camp.

Philippine Claim

Philippine opposition to Malaysia is based on a Filipino claim to part of North Borneo.

The first serious trouble for the new nation erupted Dec. 8, 1962, when a badly-led revolt broke out in the sultanate of Brunei and parts of Sarawak and North Borneo. British troops quickly put down the revolt. The instigator, goateed Sheikh A. M. Azahari, took refuge in Indonesia.

The revolt had wide popular backing in Brunei, where oil riches have failed to find their way into the working man's pocket and a corrupt feudal court held sway. Sultan Sir Omar Ali Saifuddin ultimately pulled out of the Malaysia plan.

The rebels swarmed into the jungles ahead of British forces and across the border to Indonesian Borneo. Sporadic attacks still are reported.

Internal problems also plague the rest of Malaysia.

By far the most complex is simmering racial friction between the Chinese and Malay populations. The Chinese, who form 42.2 per cent of the population have made no attempt to assimilate with the Malays, who make up 40 per cent of the population, and have stood aloof from smaller groups of Indians and indigenous jungle tribes.

Chinese Merchants

Chinese dominate business, industry and trade. Economically they have far outstripped the easygoing Malays. Chinese tycoons control North Borneo's booming timber industry and Sarawak's vast pepper gardens.

The Tunku brought Sarawak and North Borneo into Malaysia to offset a potential imbalance from Singapore's overwhelming Chinese population. Singapore's inclusion was essential because of its port facilities.

Malaysia will allow the Tunku's powerful internal security police to help Singapore authorities hold Communist subversion in check.

Malaysia's economy is dependent on rubber and tin. Malaysia will be the world's biggest exporter of each strategic commodity.

State News Roundup

Scott 'Inclined' To Back N-Treaty

PHILADELPHIA (AP) — Sen. Hugh Scott, R-Pa., said Sunday night he is inclined to vote for ratification of the partial test ban treaty but with the understanding that "we must never relax our work for eventual freedom of the captive nations."

In an address prepared for the 34th quadrennial convention of the Polish National Alliance of America, Scott said "the Russians are not changing their attitude toward the captive nations."

"We have only to look at Poland," he continued. "The slight breath of free fresh air permitted the Polish people by the Communist puppet leaders, are rapidly being repealed."

State Official Is Sentenced

HARRISBURG (AP) — Samuel M. Brad, former director of procurement for the State Public Welfare Department, Friday was fined $2,000 and sentenced to an 11½ to 23-month prison term for cheating the state in purchasing contracts.

The 46-year-old Philadelphia entered a guilty plea on four counts of forgery involving purchase contracts after the state agreed to drop 25 other counts of wrongdoing in office "for various legal reasons."

Sentence was imposed by Judge Carl B. Shelley of the Dauphin County court.

Deputy Atty. Gen. Frank P. Lawley said the forgery charges stemmed from forged signatures on purchase contracts for the Allentown State Hospital in 1960.

The actual loss to the state was estimated at $5,300.

Clark Says JFK May Lose State

WASHINGTON (AP)—Sen. Joseph S. Clark, D-Pa., says President Kennedy will have to make a strong appeal to Pennsylvania's independent voters or lose the state in the 1964 presidential elections.

Clark said Saturday he has cautioned the Kennedy Administration that it will be hard for the president to carry Pennsylvania.

"The Democrats are losing population in their areas of strength, while the Republicans are gaining in theirs," Clark said. He added:

"We took a licking in the last governor's race, and lost the patronage that goes with it. President Kennedy won only by a whisker in 1960."

US Steel Seeks Block Payments

PHILADELPHIA (AP) — The State Superior Court has taken under advisement a request by the United States Steel Corp. to block payment of about $70,000 in unemployment compensation to 6,000 steelworkers idled in 1960 by a work stoppage in western Pennsylvania.

The company contends that the steelworkers were not entitled to benefits since they were directly interested in the labor dispute.

The firm appealed Thursday, asking the appellate court to set aside last year's ruling by the unemployment compensation commission Board of Review awarding the benefits for the period between Aug. 15 and Sept. 8, 1960.

U.S. Steel closed plants in Homestead, Duquesne, Irvin, Clairton and Pittsburgh when the union struck a railroad subsidiary operated by the company.

Ormandy Praises Acoustics Of ES School Auditorium

STROUDSBURG—Eugene Ormandy, conductor and musical director of the Philadelphia Symphony Orchestra, praised the "perfect acoustics" of the East Stroudsburg Joint High School auditorium after his first concert there Friday.

He said, only half in jest, that he would like to make recordings in the high school auditorium because of the perfect way it carried the sound of his 110-piece symphony orchestra.

Credit for the compliment was given to Leroy C. Everett of Everett Associates, Allentown architects, who designed the new joint high school building and auditorium.

Financial Success

Marcia Clapp DeRocco, chairman of the Pocono Art Center which sponsored the concert, said it was a "financial success." All 1,040 seats in the auditorium

CORE Director Discusses Race Issues At Unity House

UNITY HOUSE—James Farmer, national director of CORE, said Sunday "Negro demonstrations will march in three major cities in the near future."

Farmer disclosed that his group will join with other Negro organizations in sponsoring civil rights marches in New York, Los Angeles and San Francisco.

He made the announcement while talking to a group of 500 trade unionists assembled for the 5th annual Jewish Labor Council's National Conference on Civil Rights at the International Ladies Garment Workers Union's Pocono Mountain resort Unity House.

The CORE director said the march in New York will be held Oct. 13 instead of the originally scheduled Sept. 29, and will be a demonstration protesting segregation policies of trade unions in that city. The Los Angeles "rights march" will be in preparation of testing de facto school segregation in Los Angeles city schools. Farmer also said that a major civil rights demonstration will take place soon in San Francisco. He did not give the date of the California marches.

President Kennedy sent a telegram to the civil rights conference saying "Genuine progress is being made by Negroes and other minority groups in eliminating discrimination practices in employment."

The President noted that much of the job discrimination resulted from "practices that have existed and in part due to the fact that many of these groups have not been able to secure adequate education and training."

When word of the church bombings in Birmingham, Ala. reached the conference, the executive committee of the Jewish labor Committee sent a telegram to the President calling for the federal government to move quickly. "To find the perpetrator of this fiendish deed." The committee asked the President "To use every federal law enforcement agent who is available for reassignment in order to solve the church bombing."

Orchestra Finances

Baylis has said that the biggest reason for the orchestra's interest in finding a place to play in the Poconos during the summer is economics.

The orchestra association recently agreed to pay its 110 musicians every week of the year, whether working or not. He said the annual payroll will reach $1.2 million, after that agreement takes effect in the 1965-66 season.

"We're trying to book every week that season and right now we have seven absolutely blank weeks," Baylis said. He suggested that the orchestra might divide its summer concert program between Robin Hood Dell in Philadelphia, where the orchestra now plays, and a Pocono summer festival.

"The Poconos need us and we need them," he said.

Police quoted Savitt as saying that he was traveling south at a high rate of speed and failed to negotiate a curve in the highway. He ran off the right side of the road and traveled 170 feet striking a utility pole, continued on for 20 more feet where he hit a sign on a tree, and then traveled an additional 55 feet knocking down three small trees before coming to a stop.

Damage to the car is estimated at $2,000.

In celebration of Chamber of Commerce Day, the event will be staged in the track area before the large grandstand. The invitation to participate was sent to the local school during August and every effort has been expended by Kenneth R. Fritz and Earl R. Dr. Sumberg Urges Support Of Constitutional Revision

STROUDSBURG — At a recent meeting of the Monroe County Democratic Women's Club, Dr. Alfred D. Sumberg, professor of social studies at East Stroudsburg State College, urged support of the revision of the Pennsylvania Constitution through the calling of a constitutional convention. The proposal will be submitted to the voters on November 5.

Dr. Sumberg, a member of the executive committee of the Monroe-Pike Committee for Constitutional Revision, noted that Jacob Stroud, founder of Stroudsburg, was a delegate to the first constitutional convention in 1776 and that each of the four constitutions of Pennsylvania was adopted during moments of political or economic crisis.

The Constitution of 1776 resulted from an urgent desire to implement the Declaration of Independence. The Constitution of 1790 was adopted in order to conform with the shift in political power which had produced the Federal Constitution of 1787.

Both the Constitutions of 1838 and 1874 were adopted during periods of severe economic collapse and reflected a philosophy of depression.

"We cannot afford any longer," Dr. Sumberg said, "to operate under a state constitution which reflects suspicion and distrust of the very government under which we live. The new responsibilities of the state government, particularly in the area of education, necessitate a constitution which promises efficiency and responsiveness to the needs of a growing population."

Dr. Sumberg said that the provision in the present Constitution which prohibits a state debt of more than $1,000,000 has led to the increased cost of government through the use of local and state building authorities.

"No modern large corporation," he said, "could possibly operate economically or indeed survive under a charter comparable to the Constitution of 1874."

The result, he said, was the evasion of the Constitution, which

Horseman Injured At Show

TANNERSVILLE — Charles Coslar of Lehigh RD 2, was injured yesterday in the horse show in Tannersville.

He was taken to the General Hospital of Monroe County for observation. His condition last night was satisfactory.

A spokesman for the Pocono Rough Riders Saddle Club, sponsor of the show, said that Coslar was an entry in the pickup race. This is a race where a rider races to the far end of the arena, picks up a partner and then returns to the starting point.

The pickup man did not get fully seated on the horse and in his attempt to get a firm seat he pulled Coslar off the horse. Coslar fell under the horse and was kicked in the head.

Dr. Sumberg indicated that parts of the constitution are obsolete and that a Constitutional Convention would have an opportunity to write a modern constitution suited to present needs. He urged those present to assist in overcoming apathy towards the subject and charged that the vocal and dedicated opposition has been opposed to any change in the status quo during the past 80 years.

"All Pennsylvanians," he concluded, "have a moral obligation to support and work in behalf of a 'Yes' vote on constitutional revision. We owe this to ourselves and to future generations."

Dr. Sumberg was introduced by Mrs. Wilma Rogalski, program chairman. Mrs. Barbara Nabors, president, presided at a business meeting preceding the program. Mrs. Grace Palmer, vice-chairman of the Monroe County Democratic County Committee, made several announcements.

We should all be prepared when the time comes — make your selection of a suitable Memorial now.

The Love Affair

It was obvious from the music and the comments of Eugene Ormandy and his Philadelphia Symphony Orchestra that they are both in love with the Pocono Mountains.

The chairman and the president of the orchestra association said the same thing in a business-like way at a meeting with Pocono Mountain business, resort and cultural leaders Aug. 5.

But the expression in words and music of the orchestra's desire to make permanent summer home in the Poconos was one of the most exciting rewards of the concert Friday night at East Stroudsburg Joint High School.

The concert as a purely musical event was perfection. Ormandy was so pleased with the acoustics of the joint high school auditorium that he said he would like to return just to make recordings.

The orchestra played flawlessly and with great and obvious enthusiasm.

At the end of the concert, Ormandy told the packed house of his 20-year dream of a summer Pocono Festival like that of the Boston Symphony at Tanglewood. He wooed the audience. He was the lover pursuing the people of the Poconos for their financial and spiritual support of a permanent summer concert series.

The fervor of his pursuit surprised a lot of people. It was hard to believe that the world-famous conductor of the Philadelphia Symphony Orchestra was pleading with the people of the Stroudsburgs and the Pocono Mountains to let one of the world's finest orchestras find a home here.

The people who filled the 1,040 seats of the auditorium responded to Ormandy's overtures with prolonged and excited applause and cheers.

And a well-deserved tribute was paid to Marcia Clapp DeRocco, chairman of the Pocono Art Center, for leading the campaign to support one concert and to establish a permanent summer concert series.

She and the Pocono Art Center armies of women who sold tickets, fixed flowers, and organized the concert deserve thanks from the community for bringing the orchestra here.

Now the job is to bring the Philadelphia Orchestra back for good. It is now time for the lovers to prove their affection by finding a permanent residence, providing financial support, and settling down for a long life together.

We hope Friday night's overtures are the beginning of a long love affair.

Business-Wise Maestro

Eugene Ormandy, conductor and musical director of the Philadelphia Symphony Orchestra, emphasized his desire to establish a permanent summer music festival in the Poconos Friday night with some straight business talk.

"As an artist, I know I shouldn't use this word, but business-wise it would be tremendous," the maestro told the audience with a little smile.

He said it would draw just as many music lovers as Tanglewood Festival in the Berkshires draws to Lenox, Mass. He referred to the metropolitan millions in New York and Philadelphia — both about the same distance from Stroudsburg—who can now drive here in a few hours and who will soon be able to drive here for a concert or a week of concerts over faster new highways.

But Ormandy was also thinking of effect of the Philadelphia Orchestra on the resort and business trade of the Pocono Mountains. Its effect, although certain, is hard to calculate.

But the orchestra would act like a magnet, drawing new visitors to the Poconos. It would affect resorts—hotels, motels, cabins—and it would affect restaurants, gas stations, real estate and just about every aspect of the Pocono Mountains economy.

As Ormandy said, "Business-wise, it would be tremendous."

Comment Of The Day

"The proposed Pocono Art Center is a most inspiring idea. It will be a great aid to Pennsylvania's cultural development. Congratulations as you open your drive for funds. May you be most successful."

'Blooming' The Wife

WASHINGTON — While trying to get our house on the phone the other morning I glanced through the newspaper and read that the telephone company is coming up with a gimmick that lets you bust in on your wife while she is in the throes of a gabfest with some other party. If you get a busy signal when you call the little woman, all you gotta do is bloop-bloop her. In all my married life I had never succeeded in bloop-blooping my loved one, so I devoured the story of the new advance in telephony. The system that enables you to butt in on a helpmate is called "Call Waiting," and is described in this manner: "You dial home and the line is busy. Without connecting you to the busy phone, the central office automatically injects a 'bloop-bloop' tone which informs your wife that someone is trying to reach her. She excuses herself momentarily from her telephone partner and cuts you in."

Several hours after finishing the account I managed to get an unblooped call through to our number. When a young woman with the up-to-date name of Ymelda (pronounced "Hello Central") answered, I said wistfully:

"In a year or so you won't be able to get the phone tied up all day uninterrupted. You'll be bloomed."

"Who'll bloop me?" demanded my frail tiger.

"We and the Bell System, I replied. "If I call you, and you're on the gab, your phone will go 'bloop-bloop.' This will tell you someone is trying to get you and you will excuse yourself from your telephone partner momentarily."

"I will?" said Ymelda. "Certainly," I said. "Why not?"

"I have never paid any attention to your bloops before," replied Ymelda, "so I don't know why I should start now, just to please the telephone company. If I am talking to someone and think you are trying to crash in, what'll you bet that I excuse myself, even momentarily?"

"I gotta have odds," I hedged. Ymelda inquired what other new surprises the phone company had in store for its victims. I said it had arranged so you can dial any of 100 frequently called numbers with no more than three turns of the dial. Also, when away from home you can have calls automatically forwarded to the number where you will be. And your wife can hold impromptu kaffee klatches of five or so "girls" without ever leaving home.

"The story," I added, "says you can reach your Aunt Minnie in Pasadena by dialing '55'."

"I don't have an Aunt Minnie in Pasadena," said Ymelda. "She moved."

"Dammit," I said, "she can't hold up progress this way! But what about having calls forwarded?"

"You know what will happen," said Ymelda. "We'll be at a very stiff formal affair at an embassy and that plumber will call about the bill we have owed him since 1926. It will certainly be sweet trying to give him the old coin pitch that a check will be in the mail first thing in the morning, while the Ambassador, and maybe his visiting King and Queen, are listening."

Ymelda asked me what I thought the telephone company meant by impromptu kaffee klatches.

"What other kind would there be but impromptu?" I temporized. "Who would do a horrid thing like that premeditatedly?" Ymelda asked how the phone company could remember a hundred numbers frequently called when you can't remember them yourself.

"There could be complications," I conceded. "Also misunderstandings. I remember Bob Considine gave his private number to Toots Shor. It was a Yukon number. When Toots saw Bob again he was upbraided him for giving him a phony number. The learned Mr. Shoe said: 'There isn't an exchange in New York beginning with "U".'"

"The possibility of so many people on one line at a time intrigues me," said Ymelda. "Do you think girls will begin saying, 'If several men answer, hang up?'"

HARRISBURG — It is interesting to note that two distinct organizations have been set up under the aegis of the Scranton Administration to push for constitutional amendments on the ballot this fall.

It is something of more than mere passing interest because it represents just about the first time a chief executive and his administration have gone to such efforts and length in behalf of a proposed constitutional amendment.

Other chief executives in the past have mumbled their support, endorsement or titillating acquiescence to projected constitutional amendments — but these for the most part have been just that: half-hearted or half-baked vocal or public endorsements.

Reason for this has been largely a political one. Constitutional amendments, as any politico without a noose around his neck will admit, are most difficult to gain acceptance by the statewide electorate.

Voters seem to have an almost inborn congenital fear that any fiddling whatsoever with the old State Constitution is certain to bring hardship, tragedy — and inevitably more taxes. (The latter assumption is usually correct.)

Added to this somewhat discouraging fact (for advocates of the amendment principle) most voters won't even vote pro or con on a constitutional amendment proposal — perhaps in dire fear for some reason that by pulling the constitutional amendment lever it will blow up the voting machine.

Constitutional amendment votes inevitably run much lower than the votes for political office, such as keeper of the village Lighthouse, etc. So strong seems to be the opposition to any form of constitutional amendment that even one proposing a new free hat for every man, woman and child in the Commonwealth would go down to defeat!

A constitutional amendment is no such bogey, of course — or at least not quite in most instances.

But this stuff upon which the Scranton Administration is blowing its bolt is interesting, in many respects.

First of all there is the "Citizens Committee For Project 70"—a sort of flapping, grandiose title if there ever was one. That's beside the point though. This committee has been set up to work for approval by the electorate in the fall of a constitutional amendment that will permit the borrowing of $70,000,000 for the purpose of expanding Pennsylvania's park, recreation, conservation and "general outdoor" program. It's a good, worthwhile program, unquestionably, but it's still a pile of pesos—which is where the rub may come in.

This committee has set up headquarters here in town to work for the electorate approval of the proposal—but again it's one of those Scranton Administration agogis things. The staff director is one Robert B. Stewart, public relations director of the State Department of Forests and Waters — but "on leave of absence" while the campaign is under way.

First meeting of the committee was set up "on direction" of Governor Scranton. Who comprises the seven-member "Executive Committee"? Five of the seven members are Administration officials!

And then there is the "Vote Yes Committee for Constitution Revision" (that's a nippy title too!) which has been formed (according to an official Governor's Office announcement) "to develop public support calling for a constitutional convention."

The heretofore really private committee shooting and working in this direction — "the Committee for State Constitutional Revision" — was sponsored and chaired by Philadelphia industrialist Milton Shapp, but this committee (again according to the official Governor's Office pronouncement) "will be merged into the new committee."

Both committees unquestionably will do yeoman work before the sun peters out on election day November 5—but this isn't quite the point with which we are concerned at the moment any more than we are the pros and cons of the two issues.

We think it interesting and the good people of Pennsylvania should be aware of the role an administration is playing for once on the constitutional amendment front. The question of course arises as to whether taxpayer funds are being used. The answer is—no, it's private contributions exclusively.

Washington — U.S. nuclear scientists have confirmed that their explosions detected in the Soviet Union in June and July are definitely nuclear tests in the atmosphere.

Their analysis of radioactive debris recovered from the blasts supports earlier acoustic, or sound, signals from the explosions that resembled those from other nuclear shots.

U.S. air patrols, watching closely for radioactive clouds, collected the tell-tale debris but in amounts considerably smaller than those recovered from previous Soviet tests.

This new finding, along with

The Allen-Scott Report

other intelligence data, has convinced these scientists that the Russians tested a new type of "clean" weapon, probably a warhead for their anti-missile missile, in these unannounced experiments.

The size and exact location for the explosions have been calculated but this sensitive information can not be published, since the details would give the Russians information on our detection methods.

Although the Atomic Energy Commission is withholding its announcement of these findings, the explosive information is now in the hands of Senators who plan to reveal the startling news before the Senate votes to ratify

Speaking Of Your Health:

Health Check-Up

A general survey of a child's health should be a "must" every fall. Medical examinations are considered so important that they are not only suggested, but are even mandatory in some cities of America before school starts.

Public health officials stress the need for these routine check-ups and advise that they include tests for vision, color vision and hearing.

A review of the child's immunization records may reveal the need for supportive booster shots in order to minimize the havoc that illness can create for his carefully planned educational program.

Just Sign Them

Too often under the guise of wanting to spare the doctor's time, parents will insist that he "just sign these forms," without even bothering to examine the child, because "He has been just fine all summer."

Sometimes doctors, already overburdened by filling out forms, can be subtly pressured into such an obvious error. The examination is too vital to the health and education of the child to be treated casually.

Shouldn't Be Hurried

Doctors much prefer to examine these children without undue hurry or pressure in order to do full justice to the child.

These examinations are particularly important for children in kindergarten, first or second grades. Classes are constantly being disrupted by infections which bounce from one child to another until the children develop some immunity to the new germs carried by their classmates.

Children who may already have developed immunity to the germs within their own family are prone to repeated bouts of infection when exposed to new variations of bacteria in the classroom. Infections of the tonsils and adenoids and respiratory illnesses are usually caused by these new forms of streptococcus bacteria so generously handed from one classmate to another. Contagious diseases such as mumps, measles and chicken pox pass along with uninterrupted progress throughout the school.

Supportive Measures

That is why immunization and booster shots are so important. Supportive measures recommended by the doctor during examination can reduce the frequency and severity of all infections.

When parents are notified that their children have been exposed to a contagious disease, immediate consultation with their doctor will determine the need for the use of gamma globulin as a preventative or as a modifier of the illness. The doctor's records of immunization are always more definite than those recorded in the memories of parents.

Defective Color Vision

A recent school survey revealed a rather high frequency of defective color vision that had previously been unrecognized. Psychological behavior problems were more readily explained in this group of children handicapped by defective color vision. Especially in the younger groups, teaching often depends on color techniques. The child's progress is obviously affected by inadequate color vision.

A complete health examination is excellent preventive medicine. Your child's physical and emotional progress deserves the benefits of this yearly survey.

Dear Abby

She's Burned Up!

DEAR ABBY: I am the young, attractive neighbor lady about whom WORRIED WIFE wrote. I am trying to get a sun tan, so naturally when the sun is hottest, I take sun baths in my back yard. Now, everyone knows that if you sprinkle your lawn in the hot sun you'll burn up your grass. My neighbor goes out and sprinkles his back yard when the sun is blazing just to get his eyes full of me while I'm out there taking my sun bath. I assure you, his wife has nothing to worry about as I don't appreciate an audience. Can you suggest a way to get my message across to him?

SUN BATHER

DEAR SUN BATHER: Call your neighbor's attention to the fact that his lawn is getting brown along with you. And suggest that he hold off the sprinkling until both you and the sun have disappeared.

DEAR ABBY: Recently my seventy-three-year-old father was taken to the hospital with a ruptured gall bladder which required emergency surgery. As they were wheeling him into the operating room, his last request to mother was "Don't bother to save the newspapers for me—just tear out the pages with DEAR ABBY and I'll read them when I get home." We are happy to report that he is well on the road to recovery now and almost all caught up with his reading. It is our belief that your column somehow tends to create a measure of confidence in the older generation.

Very Truly yours,

R. C. T.

DEAR R. C. T.: You've made my day. And please remember me affectionately to Papa.

DEAR ABBY: We live in a $35,000 home, have over $10,000 in our savings account, my husband has $75,000 in Life Insurance and we belong to the Country Club. I suppose you're thinking, "What a lucky woman to have a husband like that!" Well, you can have him. He's the world's biggest tightwad. He never carries a penny with him and he says that's the best way to keep from spending money. Our house needs painting, and our furniture is a disgrace. We drive a 1950 car. We've been married 26 years and he's getting tighter every year. What can I do?

TIGHTWAD'S WIFE

DEAR WIFE: If you've lived with this man for 26 years and haven't been able to loosen him up a little, there must be something wrong with your approach. On the other hand, few wives have the assets you both apparently enjoy.

The nuclear test ban treaty later this week.

What effect this disclosure of secret Soviet nuclear testing will have on the final Senate vote is conjectural. The best guess is that it will swing a few of the "uncommitted" senators against the treaty, but not block ratification.

The Inside Story—The first public disclosure that the U.S. had detected an explosion in the Soviet Union that looked suspiciously like a nuclear test was published by the Washington Star on June 30.

The newspaper's information came from a highly reliable government official who was deeply disturbed over a White House order suppressing the information so as not to upset the test ban negotiations which Soviet Premier Khrushchev had just secretly agreed to.

After the story appeared, the Atomic Energy Commission confirmed that an explosion in Russia had been detected, but their terse announcement downgraded the discovery by claiming that there was no evidence to pinpoint the blast as being a nuclear explosion.

Two of the three explosions recorded by U.S. detection instruments occurred on June 12, just two days after President Kennedy gave his American University speech stating that the U.S. would not test again in the atmosphere so long as Russia did not do so.

The third Soviet nuclear test occurred in July while Under Secretary of State Averell Harriman was in Moscow negotiating the partial test ban accord now before the Senate. All three explosions were in the kiloton range. A kiloton is the explosive equivalent of 1,000 tons of TNT. According to nuclear experts who analyzed the tests, their findings show that the Russians are near the development of a "clean" nuclear weapon that will be undetectable by the U.S. even when fired in the atmosphere. Several U.S. military-intelligence experts believe that this may now be the case.

Test Ban Fallout—The debate over the nuclear test ban treaty isn't helping to improve the strained relations that now exist between some members of the Senate.

Senate Russell Long, D-La., on the outs with leaders of his party in the Senate took advantage of the debate to needle Senate Democratic Whip Hubert Humphrey, Minn., about his recent trip to Russia.

Constantly interrupting Senator Humphrey during his speech in support of the treaty, Senator Long started the Minnesota Democratic by inquiring:

"I should like to ask the senator a question about his trip to Gorky Park and his discussion of the treaty with the Russians. Was that female blonde interpreter a Russian or an American?"

"She is the wife of an American political officer at the U.S. Embassy in Moscow," replied Senator Humphrey.

"I am happy to hear that," said Senator Long. "My general impression is that the senator with her help obtained more publicity out of his connection with Mr. Khrushchev than anyone else in the American government. Can my friend name anyone in American history who has ever had more publicity... from his connection with the Russians, and Mr. Khrushchev in particular, than the senator from Minnesota?"

"I have never tried to keep an accurate record of press clippings," Senator Humphrey retorted. "But I have one unique distinction. The Premier of the Soviet Union at one of the Communist party conclaves took time out to denounce me as a vicious anti-Communist. I feel that my trip was worthwhile."

"I say to the senator, the Russians like you and they don't like me," needed Long. "A man from the Russian embassy came to see me last week. What he had to say was parallel to what the senator has been saying in his speech. Those fellows have given the senator from Minnesota a billion dollars' worth of publicity. They have given the senator more than anybody else on earth has received."

At this point Senator John Sparkman, D-Ala., a friend of both senators, interrupted the exchange, when he noticed that Senator Humphrey's face was becoming red with anger. Another Democratic senator took Long by the arm and led him from the floor.

Poet and Critic Louis Untermeyer of Newtown, in his appearance before the N.Y. Supreme Court in defense of the 18th century novel "Memoirs of a Woman of Pleasure" (Fanny Hill), denied that the book was pornographic. Marine Band Concert Set Tonight At ES High School

EAST STROUDSBURG — A giant spotlight will be required tonight on the stage of the East Stroudsburg High School auditorium when the United States Marine Corps Band appears here on its annual nine-week fall concert tour.

The reason for the outside "spot" will be a dramatic and unusual presentation of the concert section of the "Presidents' Own" playing the melodic notes of Walter Smith's "Bolero" and giving a full-blown treatment to the gay and jaunty "Bugler's Holiday" by LeRoy Anderson, Lawrence Schoenberg, chairman of the Exchange Club of East Stroudsburg's Marine band committee, said last night.

The concert section was so enthusiastically received as feature presentations on the 1960-1962 tours, that Lt. Col. Albert Schoepfer, director of the band, programmed them again this year.

Col. Schoepfer said, "The technical excellence and artistic ability of the entire concert section is so outstanding that it warrants a 'solo' appearance."

Members of the sextet will present a striking picture as they take their places in the center of the stage. They will be attired in the traditional vivid scarlet coats of the Marine Band, with the spotlight catching the brilliance of the uniforms and the six highly polished cornets.

Member of the sextet are Johannes Rasmussen, Charles Erwin, Frederick Erdman, Charles Kautz, David Flowers, and Robert Brackman.

Col. Schoepfer was asked what advice he might like to offer to you, musicians. He replied, "Too much musical education and not enough specialization can keep young men out of the Marine Corps Band."

He continued, "If a young man aspires to join a concert band he should not study too many instruments. This type of education is excellent if he plans to teach in a school or give private instruction. If he is shooting for those goals, I can well understand why he would be interested in all phases of musical education; but in the process of studying too many instruments, he will dull his proficiency on all of them."

"When versatility has taken the place of specialization, the applicant has automatically eliminated himself from the Marine Band and similar musical organizations," he concluded.

The world-famous 165-year-old Marine Band will appear tonight on the stage of the East Stroudsburg High School auditorium to aid the Exchange Club of East Stroudsburg raise funds for its charity program.

Tickets are on sale in East Stroudsburg at Smeltz Electric, Kresge Drug Store, Lloyd's Sports Store, and in Stroudsburg at Wyckoff's Department Store, and Flagler's Drug Store. Tickets will also be on sale at the door.

Stroud Firemen Extinguish Small Blaze On W. Main St.

POCONO PARK — Stroud Township firemen were called to the Sherwin Manufacturing Co. plant on West Main St., Saturday at 6 p.m. to extinguish a small blaze.

A spokesman for the company said the fire started in the rear of the building under a workers bench in a piece of electrical equipment used to cut fabric.

The electrical device created much smoke and some heat. The heat was great enough to set off a water sprinkler in the area and trip the ADT alarm in the Stroudsburg-East Stroudsburg Control Center.

The control center telephoned the fire to Stroud Twp. firemen. After 45 minutes of work to remove the smoke from the entire plant firemen returned to the fire house.

The spokesman for the fire company said there was some water damage in the rear of the building and smoke damage throughout the entire building.

Two Injured Near Marshalls Creek

STROUDSBURG — Two Philadelphia men were taken to the General Hospital of Monroe County yesterday at 12:15 a.m. after the car they were in rolled over and slid into a stream, pinning the passenger in the car.

Injured was Homer Capps, 37, of Philadelphia, the passenger in the car. He is in a guarded condition with possible internal injuries and abrasions to his body.

The driver, John McArthur, 24, of Philadelphia, is in a fair condition with a possible shoulder injury and contusions and abrasions to his legs.

Police said the accident happened on Legislative Rt. 45017, three miles north of Marshalls Creek. They said the car was traveling north, ran off the east side of the highway, rolled over on its roof and then slid into a shallow stream.

Capps was pinned in the vehicle for more than one and one-half hours before he was freed by members of the Marshalls Creek Rescue Squad, who were aiding the police at the scene of the accident.

This is the same road on which Bobby Van Why, 13, of Portland was killed in an accident Sunday, Aug. 18.

Gierend-Durkee Nuptials Held In Bushkill Church

Bushkill — The Reformed Church was the setting on September 8 for the marriage of Miss Joyce F. Gierend, daughter of Mrs. Bertha Gierend and the late Robert Gierend, to John M. Durkee. He is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Charles H. Durkee of Staten Island, N.Y.

The Reverend Robert Tulenko and the Reverend R. Peter Durkee, brother of the groom and minister of the Reformed Church in Rotterdam Junction, N.Y., performed the double ring ceremony with Albert DeRenzi as organist and Mrs. Robert Payne as soloist.

Walter Eckert escorted his godchild, whose twin, Miss Brenda Gierend, was maid of honor. The bride wore a floor-length gown of white peau de soie. The gown was designed with a square scalloped neckline, and long pointed sleeves. It was trimmed with re-embroidered alençon lace and hand-sewn beads and crystal clusters. Her fingertip veil was held in place by a crystal crown. She carried a bouquet of white roses and ivy.

The maid of honor wore a gown of blue tulle. A short matching veil fell from a bow headpiece.

The bridesmaids were Miss Kathy Dolan of Bushkill, Miss Nora Formice of Ridgedale Park, N.J., and Mrs. Paul Witzig of Englewood, N.J. They wore dresses of matching gowns of pastel colors.

Miss Lynne Dolan served as flower girl and wore an orchid colored gown. She carried a colonial bouquet while the bridesmaids carried cascade bouquets of contrasting colors.

Charles Durkee, Jr., served as his brother's best man with John Schanzenbach of Alexandria, Va., Lloyd Botian of Richmond, Va., and George Dorry of Staten Island, N.Y., as ushers.

The bride's mother wore a lace dress of beige with matching accessories. She complemented her outfit with an orchid corsage.

Mrs. Durkee chose a blue dress with matching accessories and an orchid corsage.

A reception was held at Heddy's Hawaiian Room for the immediate family and friends.

Leaving for a week in New England, the bride wore a suit of oyster white English wool with mink trim. She wore a mink hat and matching accessories.

On their return they will make their home in Hanover, Pa., where the bridegroom is associated with the J. C. Penney Company. He is a graduate of Wagner College, Staten Island, N.Y.

The bride, a graduate of East Stroudsburg High School attended Hope College and received her diploma from Essex College in New Jersey after completing her internship at Crippled Children's Hospital, Newark, N.J.

'Magic Village' Disappears After Two-Day Encampment

The village of 50 homes which appeared magically on Friday and vanished last night at Van D. Yetters at Marshalls Creek was a far cry from the gypsy encampments of Europe or the hobo jungles of America, but there was the same spirit of foot-loose camaraderie.

At the covered dish supper on Saturday night, there was the same communal sharing of food and fellowship. Two long tables permitted double lines of plate-bearers to sample the specialties of each of the homes while a third table held the dessert.

American and state flags flew in front of many of the homes. Card tables and aluminum folding tables were grouped in the center arena and a loud speaker carried announcements of where the lines were to form and the invocation under the bright blue sky.

Women in housedresses and aprons helped with the servings. Babies in bibs sat in high-chairs. Doggers in shawls had ample arm chairs. Bicycles leaned against the side of some homes. Dogs whined greetings from behind screendoors griled with the initials of the owners.

These were present day hoboes de luxe—from $5 to 2, from many different places, school teachers, retired ministers and doctors, and businessmen with one thing in common—a complete home they could carry with them like a turtle's shell.

And, like turtle shells, all of their mobile homes were alike: aluminum bullet-shaped Airstream Caravans, differing only in length and accessories, and in the registered numbers on their front. These numbers, recorded in the directory furnished each owner, tell the names of the people who are traveling in them, where they come from and if they have caravan parking available at their permanent homes.

It was the Pennsylvania unit rally of the Airstream Club, an international fraternity of people who travel in Airstream trailers, with branches from Mexico to Alaska. They gathered on Friday night. On Saturday they had planned activities for the children leaving parents free to do what they liked in the afternoon, the covered dish supper and later a kaffee klatch with coffee, doughnuts, songs and sharing experiences.

There was coffee and nut rolls on Sunday morning after church and a communal worship service. Many of the group had dinner at Heddy's before taking off on a planned tour of the area led by Mr. and Mrs. Wilson Huffman which included the mountain area.

Many of the group had met each other before at similar rallies here and other states, or at national rallies in Mexico and in Alaska.

Mel and Helen Weiss of Brodheadsville have been to both of them and were happy to share the warmth of their trailer and the tales of their experiences when the chill settled in as the sun went down.

Mel Weiss had a heart attack and was ordered to get away from his business and take it easy. He got away all right—80,000 miles away of total travel mileage in their caravan, and he was one of the healthiest, most vigorous moving spirits behind the state rally.

It took them ten weeks to go to Alaska and back along the Alcan highway. Mrs. Weiss is just beginning to get all the dust cleared away now, since the highway is unpaved.

"Of course when you get up in Alaska they have paved roads," Mel said, "but the dirt roads are better. The frost certainly plays havoc with macadam. The natives say that the roads are best after the first snow—no dust."

"However, I'll bet if we did it again we could cut down the dust by half, now I know how to do it," he continued.

On their trip, the Weiss's traveled with a "mile guide", which listed the service stations—never more than 30 or 40 miles apart—the camping areas—and the places for food every mile of their way.

The completely self-contained units, carrying their own water, electricity, heat, and septic tanks can be set up anywhere and can be lived in for as long as ten days without being hooked up for replenishing generators and other supplies Mrs. Weiss reported. Everything in Alaska is expensive, they both reported, including food. But they thoroughly enjoyed the experiences, including the farm on permafrost foundation watered by hot springs.

They saw plenty of wild-life, too, including caribou. "Not the thousands you'd see during migration," Mel explained, "but 50 or 60 in a herd."

It is this sharing of experiences which has led to the formation of the Airstream Club. Although self-contained and able to be set anywhere, one Airstream owner seeing another Airstream trailer parked along the way is apt to draw up and invite himself to join them.

"One time we stopped to let the dog have a walk, and three Airstreams stopped to ask us if we needed any help," Mabel Huffman confessed laughingly.

Wilson and Mabel Huffman whose home is in Cresco use their caravan for vacation trips and weekends with their two sons.

"We can have a steak dinner for the whole family for the price of buying one dinner in a restaurant," Mabel explained. "We can take a three-weeks trip for what it would cost us to stay in hotels for a weekend."

"Besides, we like the people we meet in the state parks and camping areas. They are people who are really interested in the country they are traveling through, without any of the false pretensions and artificial entertainment you find other places."

The Huffmans went to the World's Fair in Seattle last year and next year expect to join the caravaners at national rally at a fairgrounds in New Jersey for the New York World's Fair next Summer. They went to Maine and had lobster right from the dock and dug and cooked their own clams.

The boys are making rock collections and have brought back rocks and shells from all over the country. They may stay for one night or for two weeks in one spot, depending on their time and their interest in the region.

Most of the caravaners are family groups or couples—but there was one "single", Mrs. Ione Eastman of California who with her two cats had come the longest distance for the rally.

Questioned about traveling alone, she admitted that the one time it bothered her was on her first national rally in Mexico. "Couples tend to invite other couples to join them," she said philosophically, "and I was left out sometimes. But I found out there were 17 other "singles" about evenly divided between men and women. And now that I've come to know so many of the caravaners, I feel right at home."

It was Mrs. Eastman who had the photograph of "Piddle Park" which the couple at the next table had been talking about. A field of stakes, "Piddle Park" carried an additional sign "To Each His Own" for the benefit of the many dogs who travel with their owners in the caravan.

With this background, it was surprising that not one of the caravaners interviewed had read John Steinbeck's "Travels With Charlie". His rediscovery of America through his travels in just such a trailer home in the company of a French poodle named "Charlie" is a book to which the caravaners at Yetters could add many interesting chapters of their own.

THE WYCKOFF SHOPPER

Wonder if you've seen the new Silver Tone collection of jewelry by Coro priced from 2 to 5.00 each piece? There are chains with pendants, pins, earrings, bracelets and necklaces that would be just great worn with tweeds, sweaters, or bulky, nubby wools. . . Inexpensive but attractive are the joined sets of bangle bracelets featuring rich, timely colors on either gilt or silver, just 1.00 . . . Have you seen our new Fiesta Ware? This gayer-than-gay dinnerware never goes out of style simply because it is so very bright and cheerful. Here-tore it was plain, and one combined whatever colors struck one's fancy. Now there is a floral print which can be wedded to the solid tone most effectively. A starter set is 10.95. I remember years ago when Fiesta Ware took the country by storm and Fiesta Parties were the accepted mode of entertainment. These dishes are a marvelous way to "knock the blues;" absolutely the cheeriest thing you will ever find at your breakfast table . . . NEW from Charles of the Ritz is Special Formula Concentrate, a richer liquid version of the excellent Cream Emollient so popular with our Ritz customers. Helen Diamond tells me a few drops of the oil smoothed into the skin works wonders. The arty two-ounce bottle is priced at 10.00; the four-ounce bottle is 17.50 . . . New too are the Charles of the Ritz Boutique Lipsticks, neatly packaged in happy pairs at 4.00. Actually, each package contains not two but THREE lipsticks, once you understand how to use them. Boutique One is rose, to wear with Fall's pinks, purples and blues. Boutique Two is coral for wear with browns, grays, and tans. If you apply Boutique One over Boutique Two you create red, for wear with grays, blacks, and whites. Since an individual Charles of the Ritz lipstick is 2.00, you actually save 2.00 on the purchase of the Boutique Pair . . . New from our Housewares department is Scale Rid, an excellent, improved formula for the safe, easy cleaning of vaporizers, tea kettles, pots, sterilizers and steam irons. Helen Bond tells me it will eliminate the "steam iron sputter" which can burn (or scare) a woman rather badly. Just 98¢. (I only wish this product also removed the scales from fish. Don't you????) . . . In our Gift Department you'll find a windmill motif on pretty tiles from Holland, mounted upon a twisted gilt wire stand that can be set upon one's table surface for practical aid with hot dishes or tea pots. These are 1.98. The same counter displays some Delft-type jewelry—medallions of Dutch design set in silver. (Pins mostly, although we have fancy spoons that are similar, and are real collectors' items) . . .

Also in our International Gift Center we have shiny copper Swiss fondue sets at 18.50 that would be just the thing for bright giving to a bride, the career girl with her own apartment, or even to you for your own home . . . Remember, if you will, that the Wyckoff-Sears Employees Association will sponsor tomorrow's Red Cross Bloodmobile at the Presbyterian Church across from the store between the hours of 10:30 and 4:30. Please share your blood, and help us make this a really worthwhile day.

Green Knights Win Opener, 26-6

Pen Argyl's Ground Attack Smashes Muhlenberg Township Before 3,000

PEN ARGYL — The Green Knights of Pen Argyl used a vicious ground attack to score in every period and gain a 26-6 win over Muhlenberg Township Saturday before some 3,000 fans in the new stadium here.

LeRoy Amy, Glenn Huffsmith and Jim Rodney capped four scoring drives for the Knights. Amy tallied twice, scoring the second and third touchdowns.

The Knights ground out a total of 327 yards against the visiting Muhls while leading Muhlenberg to a meager 55. Neither team used the airplay much. Pen Argyl tried the route six times, completing one pass, while the visitors connected on one of three attempts.

First March

In the first period, Pen Argyl started the first scoring march of the day, traveling 45 yards in nine running plays while picking up three first downs. Huffsmith, Bruce Hewett and Rodney altered noted carrying the ball with Huffsmith slanting off tackle for the final six yards and the tally. After stopping a Muhlenberg drive in the second, the Knights took over on their own 22 and consumed 13 plays en route to TD dirt. The march featured four of the Knight aerials being thrown with one completion. Amy went the final 15 yards, lugging the leather for 13 yards to the 2 and then smashing through the line for score.

Taking a 13-0 lead off the field at halftime, Pen Argyl came back to score again in the third stanza. Amy was the workhorse in this 48-yard drive. At one point he carried the ball four consecutive times for gains of 5, 12, 9 and 14 yards which placed the ball on the 7 yds' 8.

A five-yard penalty against the Knights put it back to the 13. At Terry Young carried for three yards and Amy then slashed off tackle from the 10 to up the count to 19-0.

In the fourth period the Knights launched their final drive of the day, covering 55 yards in six plays.

Young started it off with an eight-yard pickup on the first play and Huffsmith and Rodney carried him in the march. Rodney carried the ball three straight times from the Muhl 10, plunging over from the 10 on his final smash through the line.

Burdette, Sadecki Hurl Cards Closer To First

ST. LOUIS (AP)—Lew Burdette and Ray Sadecki pitched unrelenting St. Louis within one game of National League leading Los Angeles Sunday as the Cardinals swept a doubleheader from Milwaukee 3-2 and 5-0.

The two victories extended the Cardinals winning streak to 10 games — longest in 11 years for the club — and gave the Cardinals 19 victories in 20 games during their stretch drive to overhaul Los Angeles.

Meet Tonight

The Dodgers, who saw 1½ games sliced from their lead when they lost to Philadelphia 6-1 Sunday, open a three-game series at St. Louis Monday night.

Bill White's 27th home run, with one man on in the second inning, and Ken Boyer's homer in the fourth gave the Cardinals enough to get by in the opener.

Charlie James and Tim McCarver each stroked three hits to lead a 14-hit attack in the second game against loser Dennis LeMaster and four relievers. James drove in two runs and McCarver one while Sadecki checked the Braves on five hits.

Burdette, winning his third game and second against his former mates since he joined the Cardinals in June, allowed just six hits. Hank Aaron's 42nd homer with a man on in the seventh accounted for the Milwaukee runs. Burdette struck out five and walked none in picking up his ninth victory against 11 defeats.

Sadecki struck out six and walked four to bring his record to 10-3.

Paterson 'Hurricane' Smashes Argentinian

PITTSBURGH (AP)—A "Hurricane" hit Pittsburgh's Civic Arena Saturday night but the only person affected was a visitor from Argentina.

The "Hurricane" was Rubin (Hurricane) Carter of Paterson, N.J. The person affected was Farid Salim, South American Middleweight champion, who lost a unanimous decision to Carter in the 10-round nationally televised fight.

The Cardinals, who were seven games back on Aug. 30, closed the gap heading into a three-game series with the Dodgers at St. Louis starting Monday night by sweeping a doubleheader from Milwaukee 3-2 and 5-0. It was St. Louis' 10th consecutive victory and 19th in 20 games.

The Phillies hit Don Drysdale freely in the early innings and scored two of their runs—including the clincher—on passed balls by catcher John Roseboro. A third passed ball by Roseboro set up still another Philadelphia run.

Salim, who weighed 159½ to Carter's 156½, was shaken several times by smashing left hooks and straight rights thrown mainly to the body as he tried vainly to ward off the stalking Carter with left jabs.

11 Kayoes

Carter making his first start in four months, now has a 17-3 record with 11 knockouts. Salim is 35-5-2 with 17 kayoes.

Carmen Tedeschi, Carter's talkative co-manager said he wants a match with Tiger in December "if Tiger's man enough to fight Carter."

In the semi-final fight Saturday night, Johnny Bizzarro of Erie, the WBA's second ranked junior lightweight contender, stopped Eddie Armstrong of Camden, N.J. in the eighth round of a scheduled 10-round.

The Carter-Salim fight rang down the curtain on Saturday night TV fights. The fights will be telecast on Friday nights beginning next Friday.

Phillies Slam Dodgers

PHILADELPHIA (AP)—Philadelphia took advantage of an erratic Los Angeles defense, knocked off the Dodgers 6-1 Sunday and helped trim their once-commanding National League lead to one game over second-place St. Louis.

The Cardinals, who were seven games back on Aug. 30, closed the gap heading into a three-game series with the Dodgers at St. Louis starting Monday night by sweeping a doubleheader from Milwaukee 3-2 and 5-0. It was St. Louis' 10th consecutive victory and 19th in 20 games.

Change Date

EAST STROUDSBURG—The East Stroudsburg High School-Bangor football game, originally scheduled for Friday night, Oct. 4, has been shifted to Saturday night, Oct. 5, it was announced last night. The game will be played at East Stroudsburg Memorial Stadium.

Monroe Youths Win 6th Straight

EAST STROUDSBURG—The Monroe Youths softball team yesterday won their sixth straight game, trimming Giant Market by a 7-5 count. The winners tallied four runs in the third and after trailing by a 5-4 margin after four innings, tallied three runs in the fifth to gain the nod.

Pocono Mountain Stuns Lansford In First Varsity Venture, 6 To 0

LANSFORD — The Cardinals of Pocono Mountain High School are flying high today.

Embarking upon their first season of varsity grid competition, coach Wayne Boyd's squad showed a rugged defense and stunned Lansford with a 6-0 triumph Saturday night.

"It was a good defensive team which gave us the win," said Boyd after the game. "Lansford had many opportunities but our boys held them up."

Pocono Mountain tallied the game's only touchdown in the first period. The Cards took over on their own 19 following a punt. Bill Coffman tried the line on the first play and was stopped cold at the line of scrimmage. Then came the explosion.

Mikels Scores

Mark Mikels, on the next play, scooted around left end, broke out into the open and sprinted 81 yards for the TD. Good downfield blocking aided the successful run.

Following that stunner, Lansford repeatedly was knocking on the touchdown gates but the sturdy Cardinal defense stubbornly locked off all threats to make the score stand up. Russ Eggert, who made more than 70 percent of the tackles, was the defensive standout of the contest.

Lansford crossed the Cardinal goal line twice in the last four minutes of play but each time a penalty nullified the score.

Bad Snap

The home team seized upon the scoring opportunity when a bad snap from center ruined a punt attempt.

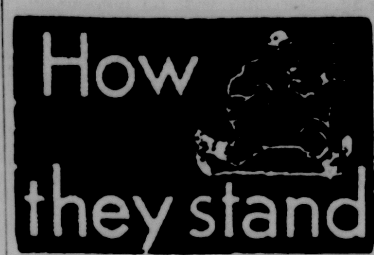

The miscue allowed Lansford to take over on the Cardinal 5 and Charlie Williams went into the end zone on a quarterback sneak. The play was nullified by backfield in motion penalty, however.

On the next play, Lansford decided on a pass. Williams hit Ted Karnish for what would have been the tying tally once again—but once more a motion infraction ruled out the TD. That ended Lansford's scoring bid.

There were other strong Lansford bids in the game, too. One desperation pass near the end of the game was picked off by Pocono Mountain's Tom Battisto.

A Cardinal fumble earlier in the game gave Lansford possession on the Pocono Mountain 14. But after four plays, the Panthers found themselves pushed back five yards by the surprisingly strong Cardinal defense which refused to budge throughout.

Raiders Top Bills, 35-17, In TV Tilt

OAKLAND, Calif. (AP)—The Oakland Raiders trampled the Buffalo Bills 35-17 Sunday with a devastating passing attack before a record Frank Youn Field crowd of 17,569 in a nationally televised American Football League game.

Quarterback Cotton Davidson connected on 14 of 29 passes for 315 yards for two touchdowns in the Raiders' second straight league victory.

Only the scrambling of Bill quarterback Jack Kemp kept Buffalo in contention. Kemp and Davidson combined for 752 yards in the air to set a league record. The old one was set in 1961 at 716 yards when Buffalo played Houston.

Pleasant Valley Bombed By Palmerton, 26 To 0

PALMERTON — Picking on a rugged opponent for an opener in the first season of varsity competition is no picnic.

The Pleasant Valley Bears found out that sad fact Saturday when the Blue Bombers of Palmerton blitzed the Bears, 26-0, behind a steady ground-air attack.

Palmerton realized their pre-season ambitions, too, of making the opener a success for new head coach Jim Nonnemaker.

The Bombers broke a scoreless deadlock after the first quarter with a pair of touchdowns in the second period, then added two more in the third period to seal the verdict.

Orioles Victims, But Win

DETROIT (AP)—The Baltimore Orioles, victims of the first triple play in the American League since 1960, scored their winning run on a wild pitch Saturday for a 2-1 victory over Detroit.

The Orioles pushed two runs across in the fifth before the Tigers snuffed out the rally with the second triple play of the major league season.

Milt Pappas, the winning pitcher, hit into the triple play attempting to bunt. He lined to first baseman Norm Cash, whose throw to shortstop Dick McAuliffe doubled Al Smith at second. McAuliffe's relay to second baseman Don Wert caught Bob Saverine off first.

The Giants jumped into a quick lead when Willie Mays hit his 35th homer of the season with two on in the first, but the Pirates came back to tie it at 3-3 with a run in the fourth and a pair in the fifth.

Bears Outmanned

Outmanned by the host team, Pleasant Valley was unable to move with any consistency against their bigger foe. The Bears gained only 46 yards rushing and picked up but 55 yards through the air via four completions in 12 heaves. Palmerton intercepted two of the aerials.

Palmerton launched an 80-yard scoring drive for the first score of the game early in the second quarter, hitting pay dirt after nine plays. Roger Lipics capped the march with a flashy sweep around end for 30 yards and the TD.

Take To Air

The Bombers took to the air for the second score with Lipics engineering the maneuvers which carried the Blue and White 63 yards into the end zone. On successive pitches, he fired strikes for 15 yards each and then found Joe Visknosky clear in the end zone from the 5-yard line. That gave Palmerton a 13-0 halftime lead.

The third period proved a replica of the second when Palmerton again struck for a pair of TD's — the first one on the ground, and the second mainly through the air.

It took the Bombers 10 plays to march 57 yards for their third TD. Don Bobita climaxed the drive with a 28-yard sweep around end into pay dirt.

Following an exchange of punts, Palmerton again unleashed another scoring drive as Lipics quickly switched to the air after the Bears had halted the running game. Again, the Pleasant Valley defense was opened up.

Lipics pitched three successive strikes which put the ball on the Pleasant Valley 5, and from there he connected with Roger Pauls in the end zone for the final tally of the day.

ESSC Bows In Opener— But Nix Panic Buttons

By KEN O'BRIEN
Daily Record Sports Editor

CLIFTON, N. J.—There won't be any undefeated season for East Stroudsburg State College this year—but don't push any panic buttons!

Montclair's Indians — rated the best in the Jersey school's history — handed the invading Warriors of ESSC an 18-12 defeat here Saturday night before a crowd of 8,526.

It was opening game for both teams, and both clubs made mistakes. East Stroudsburg made the most blunders, and it cost them the ballgame.

Three "Gifts"

Of the five touchdowns scored in the game, only two would be considered legitimate according to football purists. Coach Jack Gregory's Warriors received one "gift" and Montclair was returned two "presents." That made the difference in the ballgame.

But the Warrior line, which was just as green from end to end as Montclair's experience was from both terminal posts, held up considerably well. The fact that many of the ESSC linemen were playing both offensively and defensively told the story in the second half.

ESSC simply tired out. The Warriors scored the first two touchdowns and held a 12-6 lead at halftime. The Warrior backfield seemed superior to the Jerseyites, and the line was holding up better than any expectations, allowing the offense to move.

Seemed Ready

The defending champs of the Pennsylvania State College Football Conference — by half-time — seemed ready to defend their title, despite the inexperienced line.

But then the blunders came. And the Montclair club was able to tally the two decisive touchdowns in the final quarter of play.

A blocked punt which came late in the third period set off the equalizing TD three seconds after the start of the final period. And a fumble by quarterback Charles Sierier on the ESSC 15 set up the decisive tally with only four minutes remaining.

At the very start, it seemed the Warriors were off and running just as they had started last year when they racked montclair 29-20 in the first of eight consecutive regular season victories which gained them the eastern division PSCAC title.

TD March

Montclair kicked off to ESSC, and the Warriors immediately unleashed an 87-yard TD march in only eight plays.

Taking over on their own 13, Toby Barkman hit the line for four yards and then swept the left end on the next play for 56 for a first down on the Montclair 27. From there, Jan Beliveau, Sierier and Dick Zapolski combined to bring the ball down to the 2-yard line from where Sierier carried the ball over for the first score of the game.

Holding a 6-0 lead, the Warriors got the first break in the contest when Montclair's Frank Zimmerman fumbled the punt on his own 2-yard line and let the ball roll into the end zone where ESSC's Gerald Johnson recovered for the second TD of the game.

The attempted kick for the extra point again missed the mark but the Warriors held a 12-0 advantage.

Indians Score

Midway in the second period, Montclair broke into the scoring column on a brilliant pass play which covered 56 yards and sent end Lynn Francis scampering down the sidelines for the TD.

Quarterback Bob Benson took the snap and flipped a pitch-out to halfback Bob Canino who unleashed the scoring aerial to Francis.

The Warriors made a fine goal line stand in the third quarter when they held the Indians who fell short of scoring after Montclair took on the ESSC 25 following a recovered fumble on a punt. Montclair gained a first down on the Warrior 4 but was unable to capitalize on the opportunity.

But a blocked kick set up the tying score for Montclair when the Indians took over on the ESSC 5 and Dome Deo carried over in two plays from there.

A fumble by Sierier on the Warrior 15 gave Montclair possession once again deep in East Stroudsburg territory and Benson carried the ball from the 2 for the winning TD with only 2:07 remaining.

Title Engineers Comeback Giants Rally For Victory; Bears Upset Green Bay

BALTIMORE (AP)—Y. A. Tittle, bald Eagle quarterback of the New York Giants, overcame a rash of fumbles and penalties Sunday and engineered a courageous comeback victory, 37-28, over the Baltimore Colts.

The defending Eastern Conference champion Giants fell behind 21-3 early in the first quarter as the Colts recovered three fumbles and turned them into touchdowns in the rainy National Football League opener.

But Tittle, who made his pro debut on this site 16 years ago, was not to be rattled. Throwing three touchdown passes, he had the Giants trailing only 28-24 at halftime.

Midway through the third quarter, he personally ran nine yards for a go-ahead touchdown. He had the wind knocked out of him, and the 36-year-old Tittle sat on the bench and watched the rest of the game along with a record Memorial Stadium crowd of 60,029.

GREEN BAY, Wis. (AP)—The Chicago Bears threw up a mighty defense and cashed in on the short passing of Bill Wade Sunday to upset the spitting Green Bay Packers 10-3 in a National Football League opener before a crowd of 42,327.

The Bears, humbled by the Packers eight straight times including pre-season games, put together a 32-yard field goal by Bob Jenkins in the first period and a 68-yard touchdown march in the third in spelling the defending NFL champions' debut.

The Packers, unbeaten in Green Bay since a 17-14 loss to the Bears in the season opener three years ago, managed only a 41-yard field goal by Jerry Kramer on the final play of the first period.

The fired-up Chicago defense stymied the Packers' offense headed by quarterback Bart Starr, the league's leading passer last year, and fullback Jimmy Taylor, the 1962 ground gaining and scoring king.

The Bears picked off four Starr passes and also recovered a Green Bay fumble in preventing the Packers from mounting an offense.

In PMBL Finals S-burg A's Upset West End, 5 To 2

GILBERT — The Stroudsburg A's went 1-up on West End in the opening round of the best 2-of-3 championship playoffs with a 5-2 win over the defending champs of the Pocono Mountain Baseball League.

Stroudsburg, which hadn't defeated West End since the PMBL opener April 28, was never behind although the Gilbert club twice tied the count.

The A's sealed the win with a three-run burst in the seventh off John Churetta, the league's leading hurler.

Superb pitching by Carl Motts proved the key for success for Stroudsburg as he twirled a strong six-hitter. Neither team hit anything better than a single as the power-laden bats of both clubs were held in check by both hurlers.

Motts walked but three batters while whiffing 8 and Churetta—showing unusual wildness—issued six free passes, hit two batters and chalked up 10 strikeouts.

The A's took a quick 1-0 lead in the first but West End knotted the count with a marker in the third. Stroudsburg zipped in front in the fifth with another counter, but the Gilbert nine evened the score once more in the sixth before Stroudsburg exploded for the decisive tallies in the seventh.

In that frame, Motts singled with one down, Clausen walked, Lou Fish followed with a single and after Charley Eden fanned, Churetta opened the floodgates with a two-run error.

Fish aided the Stroudsburg cause with hits.

The two teams meet again next Sunday at Gordon Giffels field for the second game of the series.

Browns Blast Washington

CLEVELAND (AP)—Jimmy Brown, Frank Ryan and Lou Groza unleashed a three-dined attack for the Cleveland Browns and blasted Washington's Redskins 37-14 Sunday.

A 99-yard scoring pass from George Izo to Bobby Mitchell, tying the league record which has stood since 1963, was far from enough to turn the tide in Washington's favor.

Brown, bidding for the ground-gaining title he lost last year after topping the list for five seasons, rushed for 162 yards in 15 tries, caught three passes for 100, scored on runs of 80 and 10 yards and took an 83-yard pass for another.

Earlier, the Eagles scored in the first period on a 14-yard pass from Jurgensen to McDonald and with Clark's first of three conversions led at halftime 7-6. Two field goals of 38 and 50 yards by Michaels accounted for Pittsburgh first half scoring.

In the third quarter, after recovering a fumble at the Steeler 41, Philadelphia marched to its second touchdown, a six-yarder from Jurgensen to Ralph Smith, forging a 14-6 lead. But in the final period, John Henry Johnson bled across from the one after a 77-yard field goal by Michaels to send Pittsburgh ahead for the first time at 15-14. Michaels' conversion attempt however was blocked by Irv Cross.

Drysdale Socked Phils Blast Dodgers, 6-1

PHILADELPHIA (AP)—The Philadelphia Phillies took advantage of the erratic Los Angeles defense, including three passed balls, and hit Don Drysdale freely in the early innings Sunday to defeat the National League-leading Dodgers 6-1.

The loss temporarily cut the Dodgers' lead to two games over the red-hot St. Louis Cardinals with whom they open a three-game showdown series Monday night.

The Phillies scored two of their runs, including what turned out to be the winning one, on passed balls by catcher John Roseboro. A third passed ball by Roseboro set up still another Phillies' run.

No Threats

The Dodgers, with the exception of Tommy Davis' 15th home run of the year in the fourth, never seriously threatened as Dallas Green tossed a five-hitter against them for his sixth victory against four defeats.

It was Drysdale's 17th loss against 17 victories.

The Phillies picked up two runs in the first, enough to win, on three singles, a stolen base and a passed ball.

Tony Taylor opened the inning with a single, stole second and scored on Johnny Callis's single.

Callison, after moving to third on Wes Covington's bunt single and a double play, scored on the first passed ball by Roseboro.

The fifth run came in the seventh when Taylor singled, moved to second on the third passed ball and later scored on a fielders' choice. Stevens rounded out the scoring in the eighth with his 17th homer.

Los Angeles 000 100-1 5 2
Philadelphia 200 002 11x-6 9 0
Drysdale, Calmus (8) and Roseboro; Green and Dalrymple, W. Green 6-4. Drysdale 17-17.

Home runs — Los Angeles, T. Davis (15), Philadelphia, Stevens (17).

Dr. Conant's Recommendations For Teacher Training

Following are the 27 specific recommendations made by Dr. James B. Conant in "The Education of American Teachers" for the improvement of teacher education, followed by excerpts from his concluding observations as condensed by the New York Times.

Recommendations

1. Certification Requirements

For certification purposes the state should require only (a) that candidate hold a baccalaureate degree from a legitimate college or university, (b) that he submit evidence of having successfully performed as a student teacher under the direction of college and public school personnel in whom the state department has confidence, and in a practice-teaching situation of which the state department approves, and (c) that he hold a specially endorsed teaching certificate from a college or university which, in issuing the official document, attests that the institution as a whole considers the person adequately prepared to teach in a designated field and grade level.

2. Collegiate or University Responsibility

Each college or university should be permitted to develop in detail whatever program of teacher education it considers most desirable, subject only to two conditions: first, the president of the institution in behalf of the entire faculty involved — academic as well as professional — certifies that the candidate is adequately prepared to teach on a specific level or in specific fields, and second, the institution establishes in conjunction with a public school system a state-approved practice-teaching arrangement.

3. Cooperating Teachers In Practice Teaching

Public school systems that enter contracts with a college or university for practice teaching should designate, as classroom teachers working with practice teaching, only those persons in whose competence as teachers, leaders, and evaluators they have the highest confidence, and should give such persons encouragement by reducing their work loads and raising their salaries.

4. State Financial Responsibility for Practice Teaching

The state should provide financial assistance to local boards to insure high-quality practice teaching as part of the preparation of teachers enrolled in either private or public institutions.

5. Programs of Practice Teaching

The state should approve programs of practice teaching. It should, working cooperatively with the college and public school authorities, regulate the conditions under which practice teaching is done and the nature of the methods instruction that accompanies it. The state should require that the colleges and public school systems involved submit evidence concerning the competence of those appointed as cooperating teachers and clinical professors.

6. State Information Service

State departments of education should develop and make available to local school boards and colleges and universities data relevant to the preparation and employment of teachers. Such data may include information about the types of teacher-education programs of colleges or universities throughout the state and information concerning supply and demand of teachers at various grade levels and in various fields.

7. Assignment of Teachers By Local Boards

The state education authorities should give top priority to the development of regulations insuring that a teacher will be assigned only to those teaching duties for which he is specifically prepared, and should enforce these regulations vigorously.

8. Composition of N.C.A.T.E.

The governing boards of the National Council for the Accreditation of Teacher Education and the regional associations should be significantly broadened to give greater power to (a) representatives of scholarly disciplines in addition to professional education, and to (b) informed representatives of the lay public.

9. Function of N.C.A.T.E.

NCATE and the regional associations should serve only as advisory bodies to teacher-preparing institutions and local school boards. They should, on the request of institutions, send in teams to study and make recommendations concerning the whole or any portion of a teacher-education program. They should, on the request of local boards, evaluate employment policies. They should provide a forum in which issues concerning teacher education and employment are debated.

10. Certification Reciprocity Among States

Whenever a teacher has been certified by one state under the provisions of Recommendations 1 and 2, his certificate should be accepted as valid in any other state.

11. Initial Probationary Period of Employment

During the initial probationary period, local school boards should take specific steps to provide the new teacher with every possible help in the form of (a) limited teaching responsibility; (b) aid in gathering instructional materials; (c) advice of experienced teachers whose own load is reduced so that they can work with the new teacher in his own classroom; (d) shifting to more experienced teachers those pupils who create problems beyond the ability of the novice to handle effectively; and (e) specialized instruction concerning the characteristics of the community, the neighborhood, and the students he is likely to encounter.

12. Loan Policy

For Future Teachers Each state should develop a loan policy for future teachers aimed at recruiting into the profession the most able students; the requirements for admission to the teacher-training institutions within the state should be left to the institution, but the state should set a standard for the recipients in terms of scholastic aptitude; the amount of the loan should be sufficient to cover expenses, and the loan should be cancelled after four or five years of teaching in the public schools of the state.

13. The All-University Approach to Teacher Training

If the institution is engaged in educating teachers, the lay board trustees should ask the faculty or faculties whether in fact there is a continuing and effective all-university (or interdepartmental) approach to the education of teachers; and if not, why not?

14. Requirements for Collegiate or University Teacher Education Programs

The board of trustees should ask the faculty to justify the present requirements for a bachelor's degree for future teachers with particular reference to the breadth of the requirements and to spell out what in fact are the total educational exposures (school and college) demanded now in the fields of (a) mathematics, (b) physical science, (c) biological science, (d) social science, (e) English literature, (f) English composition, (g) history, (h) philosophy.

15. Foreign Language Preparation

If courses are required in a foreign language, evidence of the degree of mastery obtained by fulfilling the minimum requirement for a degree should be presented to the board of trustees.

16. The Establishment Of 'Clinical Professors'

The professor from the college or university who is to supervise and assess the practice teaching should have had much practical experience. His status should be analogous to that of a clinical professor in certain medical schools.

17. Basic Preparation Of Elementary Teachers

(a) The program for teachers of kindergarten and grades 1, 2, and 3 should prepare them in the content and methodology of all subjects taught in these early school years. Depth in a single subject or cluster of subjects is not necessary.

(b) The program for teachers of grades 4, 5, and 6 should provide depth of content and methods of teaching in a specific subject or cluster of subjects normally taught in these grades with only an introduction to the remaining elementary school subjects.

18. Practice Teaching For Elementary Teachers

All future elementary teachers should engage in practice teaching for a period of at least 8 weeks, spending a minimum of 3 hours a day in the classroom; the period must include at least 3 weeks of full responsibility for the classroom under the direction of a cooperating teacher and the supervision of a clinical professor.

19. Adequate Staffing Of Small Colleges Training Elementary Teachers

Those responsible for financing and administering small colleges should consider whether they can afford to maintain an adequate staff for the preparation of elementary school teachers. Unless they are able to employ the equivalent of three or four professors devoting their time to elementary education, they should cease attempting to prepare teachers for the elementary schools.

20. Single-Field Diploma For Secondary School Teachers

An institution should award a teaching certificate for teachers in grades 7 to 12 in one field only.

21. Clinical Professors In Institutions Educating Secondary Teachers

Every institution awarding a special teaching certificate for secondary school teachers should have on the staff a clinical professor for each field or combination of closely related fields.

22. Teaching Diploma for Art, Music and Physical Education Teachers

An institution offering programs in art or music or physical education should be prepared to award a teaching diploma in each of these fields without grade designation; institutional programs should not attempt to develop competency in more than one field in four years.

23. Revision of Salary Schedule by Local School Boards

School boards should drastically revise their salary schedules. There should be a large jump in salary when a teacher moves from the probationary status to tenure. Any salary increments based on advanced studies should not be tied to course credits earned (semester hours), but only to the earning of a master's degree, based normally on full-time residence or four summers sessions in which the program is directed toward the development of the competence of the teacher as a teacher. Such a salary increment should be made mandatory by state law.

24. Financial Assistance To Teachers of Study In Summer Schools

School boards or the state should provide financial assistance so that teachers may attend summer school after enrolling in a graduate school for the purpose of completing a program of the type stated in Recommendation 23.

25. Leaves of Absence For Further Education of Teachers

School boards should provide leave of absence with salary for a full-time semester residence at a university to enable teachers to study toward a master's program, provided this program is designed to increase the competence of the teacher; state funds should be available for this purpose.

26. Master's Degree Programs

The graduate schools of education or their equivalent (in universities organized without such separate degree-granting schools) should devise a program for increasing the competence of teachers as teachers with the following characteristics:

(1) It should be open to any graduate of the same institution in the same field of endeavor (e.g., elementary education, secondary school social studies, etc.)

(2) Courses should be allowed for credit toward the 50 semester hours whether or not the courses are of an elementary nature, provided they are clearly courses needed to increase the competence of the teacher.

(3) No credit toward the degree should be given for extension courses or courses taken on campus while the teacher is engaged on a full-time teaching job.

(4) Passing of a comprehensive examination should be required for the master's degree, as is now the case in some institutions.

(5) The summer-school sessions should be arranged so that four summer residences will complete the degree requirements, or two summers plus one full-time semester residence.

(6) If the offering in the arts and sciences is not wide enough to provide meaningful work in the summer session (as it would not be in some state colleges), arrangements should be made for the transfer or credit from a university summer school with a good offering of courses in subject-matter fields.

(7) For elementary teachers, the degree should be Master of Education in Elementary Education; for secondary teachers, Master of Education in English (or Science, or Social Science or Modern Languages or Mathematics).

27. In-Service Education Of Teachers

To insure that the teachers are up to date, particularly in a period of rapid change (as in mathematics and physics), a school board should contract with an educational institution to provide short-term seminars (often called workshops) during the school year without cost to them, may benefit from the instruction. Such seminars or workshops might also study the particular educational problems of a given school or school district. (No credit toward salary increases would be given.)

Conclusions

When one examines the courses in education, one finds almost as much confusion as exists in general education. Here the cynic might well say that the professors are jealous of their share of the student's time but are ill prepared to use it well.

Academic professors and professors of education are in complete agreement only on one point: that practice teaching, if well conducted, is important. Aside from practice teaching and the accompanying methods course, there is little agreement among professors of education on the nature of the corpus of knowledge they are expected to transmit to the future teacher.

In view of the great diversity of opinions and practices to be found in the leading institutions, I conclude that neither a state authority nor a voluntary accrediting agency is in a position to specify the amount of time to be devoted to either academic or educational courses. What is needed is on the one hand for the state to allow freedom for institutions to experiment, and on the other for the academic professors and professors of education in each institution to take joint responsibility for the reputation of their college or university in training teachers.

What I have been arguing for in essence is a competition to see which institution will quickly earn a high reputation for preparing well-trained teachers. Once free competition becomes possible in any state, there will be every reason for the academic professors and the professors of education in each college or university within that state to join hands to enhance the reputation of their particular institution. Before that day arrives, however, laymen will certainly have to enter into the fray in many states, and public opinion must be aroused.

Yet in any such endeavor the quarrel among educators must not be made more bitter; the goal is not victory for either side but mutual respect and complete cooperation. Thus while this volume is a call for action, it is also a call for reconciliation. Once the quarreling educators bury their hatchets, the layman may put his present worries aside. That united efforts to prepare better teachers would result in better schools requires no argumentation; that the nation would be the beneficiary of such a revolution is a self-evident proposition.
